CHUMBAWAMBA

THE BOY BANDS HAVE WON

www.chumba.com

Chumbawamba is back, armed with acoustic guitars, accordion and trumpet, five-part harmonies, a bucketful of attitude and a new 25-track album called "The Boy Bands Have Won." It actually has a much longer title than that (See cover for full title), but let's call it by its pseudonym. The new album is a collection of such ideas; some are just passing thoughts, others are fully-formed songs. It's gentle and warm in tone, but caustic in intent. It plays with culture, with the idea of recycling our own culture. We all have this vast history of 'stuff', musical and historical and in art and sport and politics and a million other things. And it's all there for the taking. Featuring guests the OysterBand, Roy Bailey, Robb Johnson, Barry Coope and Jim Boyes... and a hundred others, give or take a few.

"We should be grateful for the Chumbas. Moving on from that anarchic post-punk phase and the bestselling single 'Tubthumping', they have eased across to the folk scene and reinvented themselves yet again - this time as a classy, low-key harmony band writing inventive, intelligent songs."

—Robin Denselow, The Guardian (UK)

JEFFERSON PEPPER AMERICAN EVOLUTION

"10 out of 10."

Tim Peacock, Whisperin and Hollerin (Ireland)

"Lyrically, this could easily be one of the strongest CDs to be released [this year]."

Cashbox Magazine (US)

"A magnificent achievement."

Soundfires (UK)

"He is without a doubt one of America's most talented singer-songwriters...Early comparisons to greats such as Bob Dylan and Neil Young were well founded...That Pepper is an exceptional lyricist is without question...a master storyteller."

Malcolm Carter, Pennyblack Music (UK)

"A phenomenally intelligent album..."

Curtis Potter, one of country music's top vocalists, performs 10 of Willie Nelson's best-known songs, as only Curtis can, on Hillside Record's CD Curtis Potter Sings Willie Nelson.

Curtis Potter Sings Willie Nelson was recorded at The Sound Emporium, Nashville, Tennessee. All the musicians on this CD are Nashville "A" list players, and include such names as Buddy Emmons and Weldon Myrick on pedal steel, Ray Edenton and Steve Chapman on acoustic guitars, Buddy Harmon on drums, Bob Moore on bass, Buddy Spicher on fiddle, Billy Sanford on lead guitar, Leon Rhodes on tic-tac bass and "Pig" Robbins on piano. Vocal harmonies on "I've Just Destroyed The World" were performed by Darrell McCall. AND, one of the highlights of Curtis Potter Sings Willie Nelson is a vocal duet featuring Willie Nelson and Curtis Potter on Willie's song, "You Left A Long, Long Time Ago."

The highly anticipated follow-up to the critically-acclaimed This is the New You (2005), Derby's Posters Fade is an absolute masterpiece. The album was recorded in Portland, OR at the band's own Secret Ships Studio.

In an age when the art of the album has been lost, Derby has created not just a cohesive collection of music, but an album that plays like a song. Posters Fade was created as a seamless entity with one song rolling into another, chaos converting into a single voice, and notes that trail off into an entirely new song. It was written as a whole, with an intro and outro, highs and lows, anticipation, and dynamics so intense it is guaranteed to please.

With meticulous precision and complete disregard for convention, Derby created something undeniably captivating. Stacked full of beautiful harmonies, crunchy guitars, pounding drums and hand-claps galore, Posters Fade will become an instant classic.

"...Crisp, harmony-driven pop that lives in that rare, happy land between beauty and balls."

AMERICANA

The Band of Heathens, Live At Antones

It's rare for a band's second release to be a live recording. This DVD/CD finds their concept of songwriters in the round with a rhythm section moving into exciting new territory. Now truly a magical musical entity, one that's comprised of singers/songwriters/guitar-pickers Colin Brooks, Gordy Quist and Ed Jurdi, bassist Seth Whitney and drummer John Chipman. Live at Antone's, recorded in June of 2007, shows why the quintet captured 2007's "Best New Band" at the Austin Music Awards. It was the first time they ever used a set list, but like all of their shows, this performance was an exhilarating mix of familiar tunes and previously unrecorded. Throughout, the Heathens' refined brand of soul, folk and country shines in a new way.

Ashleigh Flynn, American Dream

Ashleigh Flynn, Portland, Oregon, Americana songstress, presents her third album, American Dream. This album, of emotional depth and stellar storytelling, continues her trajectory of national acclaim and impressive sales. Produced at Mississippi Studios, she's joined by some of Portland's finest musicians: Chris Funk, The Decemberists; Phil Baker, Pink Martini; Jim Brunberg, Boxset; Analisa Tornfelt, Bearfoot Bluegrass; David Gerow, Sneakin, Out; and Gregg Williams.

Her latest release makes it clear that she's got the natural vocal soulfulness separating the contenders from the pretenders....[Flynn's] American Dream is true blue Americana. - PASTE Magazine, June 2008

Joel Harrison, Passing Train

These percussive, atmospheric songs draw from deep roots: country, blues, gospel, jazz, New Orleans, and West African music all play a part. Passing Train includes a gorgeous but brutally stark evocation of a soldier's trial after war (Glory Days Are Gone), a riotous soul-rock anthem dedicated to novelist-prankster Ken Kesey, a lovely reflection on mortality (No One Knows How to Die), as well as a classic, grooving road song (Travel On). Several cuts feature ravishing vocal harmonies including the stirring track "Wash Away". Somehow amidst the rubble of losers, regrets, and time run away, Passing Train manages to uplift. The album moves deep into twilight but doesn't leave the listener in darkness. Harrison and his New York city mavericks create music of real emotion, lasting beauty, and visceral triumph.

Heybale, The Last Country Album

Austin's Heybale present their first studio album in an eight year career; recorded as in the Nashville era when everything was tracked together with all of the musicians in one room. The core of this five piece band of legends start with Earl Poole Ball on piano who performed with The Byrds on their seminal country/rock album, Sweethearts Of The Rodeo and spent years with Johnny Cash. Redd Volkaert, once Merle Haggard's lead guitarist, plays and sings with a stark realness that permeates every song. The rhythm section is Kevin Smith on stand-up bass and Tom Lewis on drums; sought after touring musicians who've recorded with Dwight Yoakam, Brian Setzer, and others. Most of the singing and songwriting is handled by the undiscovered talent of Gary Claxton. Heybale is joined by their "Orchestra", Cindy Cashdollar, Elana James and Erik Hokkanen. Together they have all recorded a very listenable honky Tonkin country slice of American music.

Tin Silver, Portland Oregon

Listen to Tin Silver and you will hear the beer halls and Baptist churches of West Texas, sun-drenched California, and a little New York thump; soaring country soul, hill blues stomp boogie, and fiddle centric folk music. The band writes collaboratively, with guitar/banjo/dobro player Alan Bowen bringing the bulk of the raw material, plus fluent bluegrass licks and blues solos. Drummer Matthew Higgins, contributes the tight bright, intricate groove he developed while cutting his teeth on Bob Wills country swing standards. Paired with Paul Prato's bottomy electric and upright bass sound and punk-bred attack, Tin Silver's rhythm section has uncommon fire and dynamic range. Tricia Rojas, the band's other Lonestar State ex-pat, brings sweet violin and the aching, rafter rattling vocals she developed singing in church choirs during her childhood.

BLUES

Scott Ellison, Ice Storm

During the 70s, Scott Ellison's home town of Tulsa, was a musical hotbed. Eric Clapton and Freddie King's bands were based there, as was Leon Russell's Shelter Records. Electrified by the British Invasion bands, moved by Motown and the soulfulness of Memphis R&B, Scott organized his first band as a youngster. In 1977, he began touring as a guitarist with Jessica James (Conway Twitty's daughter), and by 1981 "Gatemouth" Brown had tapped Scott to play rhythm in his band. By the 90s, Scott's blues band was opening for Joe Cocker, Roy Orbison, The Fabulous T-Birds, Leon Russell, Bobby Bland and Buddy Guy. Ellison's compositions have been in many TV shows and in the 2007 movie, "Feast Of Love," (Morgan Freeman).

T-Model Ford, Jack Daniel Time

80-something-year-old Delta bluesman T-Model Ford showcases his versatility on his new album of whiskey-soaked blues. Although T-Model, the self-proclaimed Taidragger and Boss of Nelson Street lives in Greenville, Mississippi, he is likely to be found performing for his fans throughout the world - from huge European festivals to his favorite juke joint, Red's Lounge in Clarksdale, Mississippi, where this CD was recorded. Joining T-Model is Terry "Harmonica" Bean, drummer Lee Williams, and very special guest - one of T-Model's first drummers (and ex-Jelly Roll King) - the legendary Sam Carr. Between band sessions, T-Model took time to play a few solo acoustic numbers - his first non-electric recordings ever.

Travis "Moonchild" Haddix, Daylight at Midnight

Since cutting six well-received cds from 1988-1994 on the Ichiban label, Travis "Moonchild" Haddix has released 11 cds on his Wann-Sonn Records label. He's performed in 17 countries and is especially popular in Scandinavia and Western Europe. As a teenager in Mississippi, he drew early inspiration from listening to B.B. King on WDIA radio in Memphis. In a 2005 feature story, Living Blues Magazine had this to say about Travis: "Haddix delivers his fables of mischief, mayhem and mercy in a smooth but sinewy baritone, backed by arrangements that meld aggression with horn-leavened soul. His leads, influenced by the string-bending Kings yet back-alley raw, are both incendiary and insinuating, a blend of uptown and down home raucousness, shot through with sensual fervor, calculated to please listeners and dancers from the burbs as well as the hood". NOTE: This title was previously solicited in the May 2008 guide.

Chris James and Patrick Rynn, Stop And Think About It

Blues fans know vocalist/lead guitarist Chris James and bassist Patrick Rynn as leaders of their own band, The Blue Four, as well as for their stellar work with a dazzling array of blues legends. Now they're on their own in Stop And Think About It. Over the last 18 years, the duo has honed their onstage interplay to ESP-like levels. They're proud traditionalists who delight in digging deep into a postwar Chicago vein, and their rollicking energy level instantly grabs young audiences who may not even be familiar with Muddy Waters and Howlin' Wolf. Loving revivals of vintage numbers on this disc, such as Elmore James ("Hawaiian Boogie") and Bo Diddley ("Confessin' The Blues") mesh seamlessly with fresh material ("You're Gone" and "Mister Coffee").

Liz Mandeville, Red Top

Liz Mandeville (formerly Mandeville Greeson) bares her soul with an inimitable range of self-penned blues, soul ballads and sassy swing tunes, accompanied by stellar Chicago session musicians and her touring band. Special guest tenor sax legend Eddie Shaw blows on 2 tracks, blasting a rocker and a ballad as only he can, and Liz steps out on lead and rhythm guitar on "Scratch the Kitty", another fine example of her double entendre witty lyricism. Liz paid her musical dues as a road warrior across the USA and Canada over the past two decades with her crack R&B band, and expanded her popularity to the Benelux countries of Europe and on the North American festival circuits. FOLK

Christine Albert, Paris, Texafrance

Paris, Texafrance is the third in Christine Albert's series of Franco-Lone Star fusion. She grew up listening to her French/Swiss mother speak her native language, but came of age playing music in New Mexico and Texas. Paris, Texafrance finds her voice more mature and the acoustic band, led by producer/multi-instrumentalist Chris Gage, provides the perfect bed for her intimate delivery. Upright bass, grand piano, guitar, mandolin and cello weave in and out of songs from Edith Piaf, Charles Trenet and Jesse Winchester, with English and French getting equal time throughout.

Christine Albert, Texafrance-Encore!

Texafrance-Encore! is from 2003. This record is stunningly produced by Christine's musical partner/husband Chris Gage (the two also record and tour as Americana duo, Albert and Gage), and the music travels from the streets of Paris, where Albert often visited her grandmother, to the highways of the American southwest, where she carved out her musical career. Edith Piaf is well represented, along with spirited songs by Daniel Lanois and Rickie Lee Jones. The Austin Chronicle commented that "its beauty is not just in the music, but in its sheer romantic atmosphere, the kind you need no partner to enjoy". Gage plays piano, accordion and guitar and is joined by Olivier Giraud (8 1/2 Souvenirs) on guitar and Paul Glasse on mandolin.

Christine Albert, Texafrance

In 1992 Christine Albert gathered some of the finest musicians in Austin, Texas, put guitarist Mitch Watkins (Lyle Lovett, Leonard Cohen, Jerry Jeff Walker) in the producer's chair and created her own musical genre that has been called "a waltz across Texas with Maurice Chevalier". With a grandmother from Paris and deep Texas musical roots, Christine's pure, country-folk vocal is the common thread as Texafrance gracefully moves between languages and styles - from swing to Cajun to Parisian chanson. French and English weave in and out of classic Edith Piaf songs "La Vie En Rose", "No Regrets" and "Hymn To Love", while the Everly Brothers' "Let It Be Me" - originally a French song - is transformed by the delicate mandolin of Paul Glasse and Christine's intimate vocal.

Ferron, Boulder

With a recording career spanning thirty-four years, the legendary Canadian folk singer Ferron is back with a beautiful release. Boulder, produced by Bitch (Righteous Babe, Kill Rocks Stars), is a collection of songs that illuminates what we know and love about Ferron. Boulder is intimate and sparsely arranged, and calls on inspired performances by mentees Ani DiFranco, Samantha Parton (Be Good Tanyas), The Indigo Girls, and Jd Samson (Le Tigre). Boulder was produced by Bitch, mixed by Tucker Martine (Decemberists, Death Cab for Cutie, Bill Frisell) and mastered by Jon Cohrs (Laurie Anderson, Pink Martini, Quasi).

"Ferron writes of love with the relentless introspection of Leonard Cohen, and, as with classic Bob Dylan, her songs' tough, questioning attitude sometimes gives way to an unexpected." - Rolling Stone Magazine

Dick Weissman, Four Directions

This is a double CD; one of brand new instrumental music, the other of songs written over a 40 year period. The instrumentals are particularly focused on portraying the Four Corners area in the Southwest. The vocals are sung by Dick Weissman, and special guests Mary Flower, Tom May, Dan McIlhenny, Chico Schwall and Anne Weiss. All material written by Dick Weissman, one co-authored by Chico Schwall. The songs range from the humorous "So Much Dylan", to songs about the American West, Gary Davis, the three principals in The Journeymen, an R&B-flavored song and one Sinatra-ish ballad. Dick plays banjo, banjeaurine, nylon, steel string and 12 string guitar, and Chico Schwall plays harmonica, banjo, fiddle and mandolin. Noah Peterson plays soprano and tenor saxophone and rub-board. An enjoyable eclectic excursion into new acoustic music.

NEW AGE

Jeffrey Fisher, Ocean Of Consciousness

In finding inspiration in the classic spiritual Indian scripture, The Bhagavad Gita, award-winning composer Jeffrey Fisher unites the timely and the timeless in a musical message for the modern world. Fisher's musical translation focuses on the emotional side of the tale of a young man facing a momentous battle. The instrumentation varies from orchestral to world-eclectic ensemble. While The Bhagavad Gita (Disc One) shares the story of a great warrior's journey of the soul, The River (Disc Two) reflects Fisher's own exploration of meaningful living. The three nature-inspired pieces on this CD - "Love 360 Degrees", "Forest of Light" and "The River" - explore traditional musical forms and sounds, flavored with jazzy overlays and unique accents that only Jeffrey Fisher could deliver us.

Ottmar Liebert + Luna Negra, The Scent of Light

While The Scent of Light is Ottmar Liebert + Luna Negra's first studio album featuring the band since 2004's La Semana, it picks up on the spacial sensibility of the recent binaural CD, Up Close, by spreading the sound across the full stereo field to create superb listening depth. While Ottmar has stepped away from the recent minimalism of his 2007 Grammy nominated solo album One Guitar, you still sense the high resolution, beautiful clarity, and live combo dynamic. It's a layered recording, with multiple guitars, basses, keyboards & percussion subtly exchanging altitude, rooms, and dimensions. Nate Krooks, Still True

Dj & producer deedot (Melina Jones, Public Radio) and Kazwell are the hip-hop duo Nate Krooks. The Bay Area natives are releasing their 15-song debut album entitled Still True; an homage to positive lyrics, jazz and soul sample-based production from the 90s but with a new school sound. Both deedot & Kazwell have been building upon their respective crafts for the good part of the past decade. Taking listeners back to the original essence of hip-hop, their music has been described as reminiscent of hip-hop's golden days past. deedot's soul, funk, & jazz laced production provide the perfect sonic backdrop for Kazwell's ecumenical lyricism through precise, declarative delivery. The duo grabs inspiration from seminal artists such as 9th Wonder, Pete Rock, NaS, & Ghostface.

The Bleeding Hearts, Nothin' On But The Radio

This album takes a great mold, breaks it, and builds a better one! Produced by Dave Bartholomew, the band focused on making an honest record, with no tricks. Real Guitars. Real Amplifiers. Listen carefully and you'll hear a little .38 Special sneak into guitarist Joe Yerry's riffage. And you'll definitely hear plenty of musical references to North Carolina's own semi-forgotten '70s pop-rock geniuses, Nantucket. Derby's Posters Fade is an absolute masterpiece; recorded in Portland, OR, at the band's own Secret Ships Studio. Derby has created not just a cohesive collection of music, but an album that plays like a song; created as a seamless entity with one song rolling into another, chaos converting into a single voice, and notes that trail off into an entirely new song. It was written as a whole, with an intro and outro, highs and lows, anticipation, and dynamics so intense it is guaranteed to please. With meticulous precision and complete disregard for convention, Derby created something undeniably captivating. The Dry County Crooks, When Hearts Break

The Dry County Crooks are a rocking outlaw country band from Portland, Oregon. A blue-collar message and punk-abilly riffs are their trademarks. Vocalist/acoustic guitarist Vinny D's anthems are the ignition system in the hopped up pickup that is The Dry County Crooks. Influences Johnny Cash, Social Distortion, and The Pogues are hot wired into tales of rural American characters, greased up broken hearts, alcoholic binges and knife wielding street fighters. Paul Becker's electric guitar crunch sparks the 8-cylinder rhythm section of drummer Cheo Larcombe and bassist Johnny B. Touring since 2001, they've played over 300 shows inspiring crowds to drink, dance and sing along for the ride. Here Comes Everybody, The Veronica Project

The Veronica Project is a collection of 17 brand new songs culled from an amazing year of writing 6 songs on a single day once every month. The tunes tell the story of a year in the life of the band, a kind of piano-pop "Four Seasons". The lyrics tackle topics from excessive cell phone usage to the crimes of flavored vodka and swimming without life preservers. The music is more acoustic and organic than previously, a quieter Here Comes Everybody that rocks pretty hard nevertheless. It's a proud moment for the band and a fascinating departure from their previous work. Here Comes Everybody is the song-writing husband/wife team of Michael Jarmer (drummer, singer, lyricist), and René Ormae-Jarmer (keyboardist and songwriter).

Richard X. Heyman, Actual Sighs

"This album was a chance to recapture a period of time and music that had slipped away. Back in high school in the 60s, I knew of this already legendary guitarist from the next town over. Ed Stasium was the first cat around who developed an interest and expertise in the recording process. One day he asked me to bring my drums over to his house to lay down some tracks. I'm proud to say I'm the first guy Ed recorded. Since then, Ed has had an illustrious career as a producer/engineer, and so it is fitting on this lost debut album to come full circle and have him mix several of these tunes. So maybe this once I can quietly sneak back, at least in my head, to the garage on Kenyon Avenue in Plainfield, where I had my big upright piano, Ludwig gold sparkle drum set and a couple guitars and amps, and regenerate some actual sighs..." - Richard X. The song "Hoosier" was recorded with Peter Noone (Herman's Hermits) singing lead vocals and Richard playing drums, organ, and acoustic twelve-string guitar, and everyone singing along with Herman. Richard first met Peter Noone when they were both signed to Cypress Records in 1990. The recording remained unreleased until the realization struck that it deserved to be heard by pop aficionados and why not accompany it with worthy songs that had fallen by the wayside? Goldmine has said: "...easily a candidate for best (take your choice) a) album b) EP c) CD of (your choice again) 1) 2000 b) 2001 c) the whole damn new millennium." Perhapst, Perhapst

Former Elliott Smith/Stephen Malkmus & The Jicks drummer, John Moen, a current member of The Decemberists, used his time off from touring to make Perhapst's self-titled debut. Perhapst is filled with quirky, catchy, hook-laden indie-pop, experimental folk-rock; all delivered with a smirk and a smile. Friends such as engineer Eric Lovre (of the Dharma Bums) also lent some instrumentation help, as well as Stephen Malkmus (guitar). Some may remember John Moen as front man for NW favorites The Maroons, or drummer for the widely popular early 90s indie-rock outfit Dharma Bums. WORLD

Battlefield Band, Happy Daze

Nothing stands still for Battlefield Band - over 30 years on the road and still producing the goods. The music here is their unique, high quality mix of self penned and traditional music; reflecting the band's Scottish background. Released in 2001, 11 songs plus 4 extra tracks taken from other recent solo and Battlefield albums. This outing confirms that their reputation for good, honest musicianship remains intact. Whether they approach songs or tunes, self-penned or traditional, the delivery is always crisp and tight. And yet they maintain at all times an ability to surprise, to amuse and to give food for thought. The album is dedicated to the memory of former member and stalwart of the Scottish traditional/folk scene, Davy Steele, who passed away recently. Many outfits would have found it damn near impossible to have recovered from a loss of such a magnitude. However The Battlefield Band - like all great institutions - takes change and tragedy in its stride - emerging with its dignity intact and stronger than before.

Caña Son, Caña Son

Gripping vocals, shredding horn lines, and infectious rhythm are the beans and rice of Caña Son's fresh-man effort played with a very personal style that is clearly identified in Cuban roots. "My teacher is my ancestry" says Juanito Maribona, Caña Son lead vocalist and band leader. "You can't learn this on paper. It's in the veins, in the blood." Highlights of the disc are rock solid, swinging renditions of tunes by the inventors of Cuban Son, Guillermo Portabales, Níco Saquito, Francisco Repilado and Celina Gonzalez. But, bottom line this is a great disc of roots dance music as played by the next generation of young soneros.

Hamilton de Holanda & Andre Mehman, Continuous Friendship

This is the first recorded collaboration from two of Brazil's most vital young composers and instrumentalists: pianist Andre Mehman and mandolinist Hamilton de Holanda. The CD is a collection of original compositions and interpretations of songs by such composers as Enrico Morricone, Guinga, and Egberto Gismondi. Three bonus tracks capture the duo's first rehearsal for the CD. Andre Mehman is the winner of the 1997 VISA MPB prize; renowned as a pianist, composer, arranger and multi-instrumentalist. Hamilton de Holanda is a Latin Grammy nominee and has already performed with some of the top names in acoustic music and jazz.

Anne Heymann, Queen of Harps

Anne Heymann, from Minnesota, is recognised as the foremost exponent of the wire-strung harp in the world. The wire-strung harp, or clarsach, was the harp of the Gaels of Ireland and Scotland. Through her knowledge of traditional music from her Irish American family background, and her study of the surviving music and manuscripts, Ann has re-invented the techniques necessary to play this majestic instrument.

John McCusker, Yella Hoose

Yella Hoose is John McCusker's second solo album. Like his first album, the word 'solo' hides the fact that John takes the opportunity to bring many musical friends on board; showing off all their talents to perfection. Friends like Tim OBrien, Darrell Scott, Kate Rusby, Michael McGoldrick, Ian Carr, Simon Thoumire, Andy Cutting, Gino Lupari, Malcolm Stitt, Kevin MacKenzie, Mike Katz and Iain MacDonald.

Sundad, The Journey Continues

Sundad's first CD, Journey To Eternity, earned the trio nominations for 2005 "Best New Artist" and "Best Acoustic Instrumental Album."

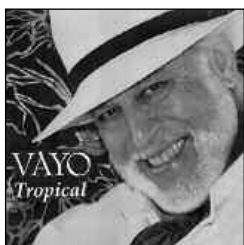

"The trio known as Sundad (father-son team John Eurell, Sr. and John, Jr. and Chet Soares) serve up some tasty (and sometimes quite spicy) acoustic world/jazz fusion music on their second release, The Journey Continues. Regardless of how one categorizes Sundad's music and The Journey Continues, it's evident these guys know how to play. With its jazz riffs, world beat spice, mixture of earthy/sensual and kinetic energizing rhythms, as well as enough guitar fireworks to fulfill any lover of the instrument, the trio's latest release is almost certain to please acoustic instrumental music fans who seek an album which engages the listener's body and mind." - Bill Binkelman, New Age Reporter

Vayo, Tropical

Vayo, a 2007 Latin Grammy nominated artist, presents his new album of tropical music. Tropical is a collection of Vayo's singular arrangements of classic and new themes from the warm Latin cultures, from the oldest bolero (1883) interpreted as a Cuban son to the familiar traditional themes that express the romance of the Spanish speaking world. Also in this album, Vayo presents a Peruvian valse, a guarania of Paraguay and a few of his own compositions.

"Guitarist-singer Harrison describes his music as a trip 'along the seams of jazz, country, blues and spirituals, and music from around the world.' That's an ambitious task, but he brings it off, in a collection filled with surprising, but utterly convincing, shifts of musical emphasis. Harrison is on to something both innovative and compelling, and he deserves a much wider hearing."

- Don Heckman, LA Times

DICK WEISSMAN FOUR DIRECTIONS

The latest and perhaps the most eclectic release from acclaimed folk-jazz artist Dick Weissman. Aptly named, this double CD is a musical landscape rich and expansive in style, subject matter, time period, instrumentation and overall feel, with musical contributions from several renowned artists, including Mary Flower, Anne Weiss, Chico Schwall, Dan McIlhenny, Noah Peterson and Tom May.

Longtime fans will recognize the virtuosic instrumental stylings of Banjo and guitar for their warm tones, dynamic arrangements, unconventional tunings and varied moods that characterize the first CD, while the second disc introduces the listener to an amalgam of original songs; some previously unrecorded work that spans over forty years of writing.

"Love the warm recording sound, for starters... takes me back to your early suites and composing. Today in my memoir I'm writing how you lured me away from graduate school to play sessions in Manhattan... It sounds amazing." - Artie Traum

Double CD! Songs, Instrumentals & Weissman's commentary covering each track at the end of each CD.

Uncover the Greatest Secret in 21st Century Jazz!

THE West Coast Jazz of George Kahn carries the tradition of the jazz greats like Dave Brubeck, Vince Guaraldi and Horace Silver into the 21st century. With COVER UP! his 6th jazz release on the Playing Records label, Kahn features his all-star band mates Brian Bromberg (fresh from a GRAMMY nomination) and Alex Acuna (of "Weather Report" fame) on a romp through cover tunes new and old, mingled with his own originals. In addition to his jazz albums, Kahn's music has been featured on many TV shows and advertisements, including Lexus, "The Young and the Restless" and "How William Shatner Changed the World."

"As with previous Kahn releases, COVER UP! is characterized by great arrangements played by monster musicians. The music, while complex, sounds effortless, and skillfully blends straight-ahead and contemporary styles into a sound rooted in tradition while emanating from today. The band has everything it needs to turn the Pink Floyd teen anthem "Comfortably Numb" into a wistful jazz ballad, to bop hard a la 60s Blue Note on "Mitchell's Blues", groove to the guitar-driven "Wes' Coast", and get to some down-right dirty funk on the title track. George Kahn's COVER UP! is a sterling musical statement from an unselfish and swinging pianist. Don't let it go unnoticed." - Alfredo Cruz, KRTU Jazz for San Antonio

C.R. AVERY NEW MAGIC HOUR ALBUM SAILOR SONGS

"Pulling together the musical mastery of the American south and turning spoken word into a book of wonderment, Magic Hour Sailor Songs is ... destined to be a poetic iconoclast. If you put Jeff Buckley, Bob Dylan and Johnny Cash into a liquidiser, the result would be C R Avery. CR Avery offers a new twist of all that has come before him - the power of the beat box. It should also be noted that Avery uses his skills subtly, never overdoing the verbal drum-machinery."
LUKE STARR,
Kruger Magazine UK

"(C.R. Avery's) union of hip-hop and beat-up blues packs a powerful punch," 5/6 STARS
TIME OUT LONDON, UK
"most imaginative artist this reviewer has heard in ages. A true artist." 9/10, AMERICANA-UK
"This album is like nothing else you would have heard all year and even maybe ever."

JOHNNY DOWD a drunkard's masterpiece

★★★★ 4 STARS, MOJO

"A Drunkard's Masterpiece is a creative car crash of Americana, beatnik rock, poetry, prose, jazz rock, rap, screaming metal guitar, retro pop, spoken word and country noir."

The whole thing was recorded in three days, on 8 track tape, live in the studio...

The lyrics, like the music, are classic Dowd - sex, marriage, more sex, adultery, original sin, unoriginal sin, God, Mary, Jesus, more adultery, death, love, masturbation."

"...his band runs effortlessly through jazz, funk, and everything from psychedelic-sounding country to bludgeoning heavy metal."

1	Ottmar Liebert/Luna Negra, La Semana Label: Spiral Subwave Records International UPC: 80640333826 Price: 9.90 For the last five years, guitarist Ottmar Liebert has been regurgitating his career: variously re-recording, remixing, and remastering his older songs. Initially, La Semana, which translates as "The Week," sounds like a stylistic return to that early sound. No electronics, orchestras, or smooth jazz combos--only Liebert on multi-tracked guitar with bass, and percussion, just like on Nouveau Flamenco.	 8 0640-33338-2 6
2	The Red Button, She's About To Cross My Mind Label: Grimble Records UPC: 837101290579 Price: 8.15 The Red Button is Los Angeles-based singer-songwriters Seth Swirsky and Mike Ruekberg. A CD of eleven pop songs created, says Goldmine Magazine, "the way God and Paul McCartney must have intended". Amplifier Magazine says "Swirsky and Ruekberg can now wear their rightful crown as the Peter Dinklage/Chris Stills of the New Millennium".	 8 3710-12905-7 9
3	The Band Of Heathens, The Band Of Heathens Label: BOH Records UPC: 678572959721 Price: 9.40 The best Austin band of 2007 (Austin Chronicle) shows that Austin's indy spirit is alive and well with smart southern/country rock that has some heartland heart running through it as well. A sure bet for anyone that's ever grooved to that vibe and wants more without it being more of the same. Often described as this millennium's bastard stepchild of the mating of Little Feat and The Band.	 6 7857-29597-2 1
4	Common Market, Black Patch War Label: Massline UPC: 678277162723 Price: 5.85 Black Patch War is a 7-track EP by Seattle Hiphop mainstay Common Market (RA Scion on the rhymes, Sabzi of Blue Scholars on the beats). This is a concept project intended to pave the way, stylistically, for the highly anticipated Tobacco Road (September, 2008); with pointed and pertinent social commentary atop a soul-stirring soundscape of hard-hitting beats,	 6 7827-71627-2 3
5	Manhattans, Men Cry Too Label: S.D.E.G./Spice Island UPC: 722247180122 Price: 10.40 The lead off single, "Shorty" featuring Screechy Dan who was featured on Mario's "Let Me Love You" is R&B dynamite. "Follow Your Heart", "I Wanna Be Your Everything", "Kiss And Say Goodbye", "Shining Star", "Don't Take Your Love", "There's No Me Without You"...are just a few of the mega hits this group has given the world since their inception. With the exception of their stirring rendition of Sly Stone's "Everyday People", this CD is meant for love, lovers and loving.	 7 2224-71801-2 2
6	Tracy Grammer, The Verdant Mile Label: Tracy Grammer Music UPC: 634479563270 Price: 6.60 This is a seven song all-acoustic EP with two originals and five beautifully chosen covers. The title track is a poignant yet upbeat meditation on loss and survival, written by Grammer to address the 2002 passing of her musical partner, Dave Carter. "Grammer wraps her rich, ethereal voice around Neil Diamond's 'Solitary Man,' evoking Joan Baez in her prime, while a lovely ray of hope rings out in Emory Gordon and Joe Henry's 'When I Reach the Place I'm Goin'...' classic Americana." - Dirty Linen	 6 3447-95632-7 0
7	Floater, Acoustic Live At The WOW Label: Typhon Records UPC: 614511758024 Price: 9.90 Floater has received two preliminary Grammy nominations; their sound includes elements of rock, psychedelia, reggae, pop and even jazz. Floater has been described in the press as, "The nearest American thing to perfection" and "one of the greatest power trios in modern music." Performance after performance, they continue to sell out some of the largest concert halls across the west.	 6 1451-17580-2 4
8	Roky Erickson, Halloween Label: SteadyBoy Records UPC: 678277170926 Price: 9.40 Since 2005, the Explosives have powered Erickson's inspiring return to the stage. Halloween captures the live experience of Roky and The Explosives from their powerful first cycle, 1979-1981. Explosives drummer Freddie Steady Krc has handpicked the tracks, most unreleased, including the only performance of The Beatles' "I've Just Seen a Face." The psychedelic package (cover by San Francisco poster artist, Dennis Loren) includes unpublished photos plus a complete history of the band's performances from those three years.	 6 7827-71709-2 6
9	Hayes Carll, Little Rock Label: Highway 87 Music UPC: 783707017907 Price: 9.40 Hayes Carll displays an outlaw's attitude and a poet's soul. Little Rock, his second album, was recorded in Nashville with producer R.S. Field (Billy Joe Shaver, Allison Moorer, Webb Wilder) kicks off with "Wish I Hadn't Stayed So Long" a wry and gritty rocker of a Dear John letter to Crystal Beach Tx, Nashville, Austin and other stops along the way. Includes "Rivertown," co-written with Guy Clark.	 7 8370-70179-0 7
10	Too Slim & The Taildraggers, The Fortune Teller Label: Underworld Records UPC: 635961076025 Price: 9.40 "The Pride of Spokane, Washington, checks in with their 13th album! Slim and his bandmates shift styles effortlessly while staying true to their blues-rock spirit. While nothing here reinvents the roots-rock wheel, each track has a catchy chorus you'll be singing along with after a single spin. Slim sings with the 'been there, done that' honesty of a blues journeyman who deserves a better hand in life than the one he's been dealt." - Hal Horowitz in Blues Review	 6 3596-10760-2 5

A CHANGE IS COMING

A Change Is Coming represents a major leap for singer/songwriter LeRoy Bell. Not only has he grown as a touring artist, the experience has given his music an edge that places him into league of performers creating a sound that crosses many demographics.

The reception to LeRoy's music has been spectacular. He has and continues to perform with B.B. King, Etta James, Al Green, Paolo Nutini, India.Arie, Erykah Badu, LeAnne Rimes, Colin Hay, Mavis Staples, Keb Mo, Taj Mahal, Leon Russel, Sonny Landreth, Charlie Musselwhite and Los Lobos.

As a young writer, LeRoy jumped into the music arena teaming with Casey James, writing songs that would be recorded by The Spinners, The O'Jays, The Temptations, Rita Marley and most notably Elton John.

"A Change is Coming" is heartfelt, honest and much needed in a world of too many uncertainties to count. One thing we can count on is LeRoy Bell.
